Prisoners Taken Off Train and Hurried to Jail in Los Angeles by Automobiles.

OTHER ARRESTS HOURLY EXPECTED

Representative Korbly Takes Steps Leading to Investigation of Prisoners' Constitutional Rights.

Los Angeles, April 26.- James B. McNamara has been identified as James B. Bryce, one of the three men charged with having bought 500 pounds of high-power dynamite at Giant, Cal., a few days before the Los Angeles Times Building was blown up.

Mrs. D. H. Ingersoll, of San Francisco, who numbered Bryce among her roomers early last September, made the identification at Pasadena this afternoon as McNamara was being hustled from the California Limited into an automobile.

Accompanied by a woman friend and a chanffeur, Mrs. Ingersoll went to Pasadena a short time before the train arrived. The automobile was stationed at a prearranged place, and when all was ready Mrs. Ingersoll watched intently for the approach of the prisoner, 'As Mc-Namara appeared she exclaimed: "That's Bryce." She did not go to the jail, but to-morrow she will probably do so,

McNamara does not know that she has seen him.
